REPLY TO LAY DOWN GENERAL FRENCH POLICY ON RUHR ISSUE

Poincare To Answer British Note And Explain Position

FRONTIER SHUT

Communist Strikes In Berlin End, Provinces Still Precarious

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Aug. 16.—The French reply to the British Note will not be confined to a detailed answer but will contain a general statement of French policy with regard to reparations.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Aug. 16.—It is reported from Mayence that the inter-Allied Commission has decided that the frontier of occupied and unoccupied Germany, which should be opened tomorrow, shall remain closed indefinitely.

(Reuter's Service)

Aix-la-Chapelle, Aug. 16.—The Belgian military police have arrested fifteen persons. They searched their houses in which they discovered bombs, revolvers, daggers, bludgeons and documents relating to the organisation of sabotage. The authorities have instituted a curfew in the Aix-la-Chapelle zone.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Aug. 16.—M. Albert Thomas in an interview today said that he had obtained the impression after a day spent in the lobbies of the Reichstag that new negotiations between France and Germany were possible.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Aug. 16.—Following a majority vote, in which the British delegate abstained from voting, the Reparations Commission has sent a letter to the German Government with reference to the issue of the gold loan pointing out its right under the Treaty of Versailles to priority in any funds assignable by the German Government to the payment of interest or the repayment of capital, particularly if the extraordinary receipt itself was not applied to the discharge of reparation annuities.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Aug. 16.—While the Communist strikes in Berlin have ended, the situation in the provinces is still precarious, though the collapse of the Communist general strike design may be expected shortly.

Leipzig, Halle, Teutschenthal, Helmstedt and Arnstadt are among the places where there has been fighting between Communists and Nationalists and Communists and police which have resulted in many casualties. Order was restored at Hanover after 5 persons had been killed and 50 injured.

The Communists failed in their attempt to seize Zeitz. The troops in occupation intervened to rescue police at Herne who were overawed by a mob of looters. Work is at a standstill in Hamburg and Stettin owing to the strike of dockers.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Aug. 17.—The French reply to the British Note is not expected before the beginning of next week.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 17.—A startling report, current in New York and Paris, that Dr. Stresemann had been assassinated is denied from Berlin.

(Reuter's Service)

Duisburg, Aug. 16.—The town of Duisburg has been fined 187,000 dollars as a penalty for the bombing of a train containing Belgian soldiers going on furlough on June 30, when 10 soldiers were killed and 25 injured.

(Reuter's Service)

Hamburg, Aug. 16.—The dockers have resumed work.

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Aug. 16.—The Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung has been suspended for three days presumably owing to its having recently violently attacked Dr. Stresemann.

CHINESE STUDENTS REFUSE ALL AID FROM JAPANESE

Won't Accept Fund From Boxer Indemnity Levy Because Of "Disgrace"

Chinese students in Japan who would have benefited under the Government's plan for devoting a portion of the Boxer indemnity funds to their support have caused the distribution of the funds to be delayed because they consider they would be disgraced if they accepted money from Japan, according to the Japan Advertiser. Not all the students are similarly minded, it was stated at the Chinese Legation but those who contend that poverty is preferable to "disgrace" have succeeded for the time being at least in obstructing the Japanese Government's plan. The failure of the Japanese Government recently to contribute anything to the support of the students here apparently has had little effect on their attitude towards the matter. About 3,00 Chinese students are studying in the country now.

The decision to devote a part of the Boxer Indemnity funds to measures directly beneficial to the Chinese was made at the last session of the Diet. The program adopted was similar to these previously put into effect by the United States and Great Britain. Objections were raised by the Chinese Government soon after the Diet's action was taken, when it was proposed to Japan that a joint Sino-Japanese Commission direct the expenditure of the funds. Japan agreed to the appointment of Chinese members in an advisory capacity.

The first disbursements for the support of students in Japan were to have been made in April and would have amounted to Y400,000 this year. What course will be taken now, in view of the continued antagonism of the intended beneficiaries, is undecided.

Canada Seizes American Gunboat

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Aug. 16.—The Canadian authorities have seized the United States gunboat Gopher with Ohio naval reserves on board for damaging a lock in the Welland Canal. The reservists were detained several hours before being released. Efforts are being made for the liberation of the gunboat in order that the cruise may continue.

Big Crowd Of Students Off To Take Up Studies In American Universities

Group Of 173 Chinese, Including Five Girls, Sail By President Jackson; 29 Russians Also Leave For School In States

College yells and cheers from hundreds of students on the jetty sent off on the steamship President Jackson yesterday probably the largest student party that has ever sailed from Shanghai. In this party were 173 Chinese young men and women en route to various institutions of higher learning in America to complete their education.

Rarely has there been a gayer scene on the departure of the steamer than that which sent off this group yesterday from the China Merchants' Central Wharf. Each student was represented on the wharf by a group of friends and relatives and while there was doubtless regret on the part of those departing and those remaining behind, yet there seemed throughout the greatest good will and joy on the part of all concerned.

Of this party of 173 Chinese students 85 were being sent by the central government on Indemnity scholarships. Of this number five are young women. The balance of the party were students going to America on their own resources. All in all, there were thirteen young ladies in the party.

RUSSIAN STUDENTS

On the same ship was an interesting group of 29 Russian students who are likewise en route to the United States to continue their education, which was interrupted some years ago at the opening of the World War. These students were most of them from European Russia but they have gradually made their way across Siberia and have during the past few months been in Shanghai making their plans and preparations for their trip to America.

The Tsinghua party this year was led by Mr. J. D. Drung, a member of the faculty of Tsinghua College.

This year registers the largest number of Chinese that have ever gone to America in one fall period. In addition to the 173 sailing yesterday there were 15 who sailed on the President Taft on August 4 and 7 on the Tenyo Maru which sailed on August 16. The Korea Maru on Aug. 24 will take 7 students and on Aug. 29 the President Jefferson will take 25 additional. This is a total of 252 students. From these figures it will appear that there will be at least 300 Chinese students leave for American colleges this fall.

The arrangements for the Tsinghua party and for many of the private students were made in Shanghai by the Student Bureau of the Chinese Y.M.C.A. Mr. K. F. Lum of this Bureau, together with the staff of secretaries of the Student Department, has given much effort during the past three months in making the many arrangements which have to be carried through from the time the student thinks of going to America until he actually sails. The Y.M.C.A. Bureau also serves as the Shanghai representative of Tsinghua College. Every student handled by the Department carries an introduction to the city and college Y.M.C.A. in all sections of America and today the Chinese student is so favorably known that he receives a very cordial welcome in all of the main student centers of America.

Seattle is planning a three-day celebration for the Chinese student party that sailed yesterday. The China Club in co-operation with the Chamber of Commerce and the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. have arranged a series of receptions, visits to various points of interest and similar activities. This is the first large Chinese student party that has traveled by way of Seattle and the businessmen of that enterprising city plan to impress the Chinese students with the fact that Seattle is the "main gateway to the Orient."

From Seattle the party will travel on a special train to Chicago, from which place the students will scatter to their various destinations in the Middle West and farther East.

LIST OF STUDENTS

Following is the list of Tsinghua students sailing yesterday, grouped according to the courses of study they are to pursue, with the name of the institution each is to attend.

WEN AND CROW PRESENTED WITH SILVER SHIELDS

Ex-Captives Honor Two Who Helped Them At Tsao Chuang

Commissioner of Foreign Affairs Wen Shih-tsung of Nanking and Mr. Carl Crow of Shanghai were presented with beautiful silver shields by ex-captives of the Paotzuku bandits at two informal gatherings in their honor yesterday. Mr. Crow was presented with his shield at a tiffin at the Union Club, presided over by Mr. J. B. Powell, editor and publisher of The China Weekly Review. Mr. Wen was also supposed to be present, but was delayed in his arrival from Nanking and was presented with his shield at tea-time at the club.

The shields of silver with a bas-relief of Paotzuku, the bandit stronghold, and the names of the former "guests" of Sun Mei-yao as well as the recipient, were presented Mr. Wen and Mr. Crow because of the splendid work they did in securing the release of the foreign and Chinese captives held by the bandits.

Mr. Wen, a life long friend of Mr. Roy Anderson, the chief negotiator, went to the assistance of the captives despite the fact that he was an official of another province, which earned him the wrath of the bellicose Shantung officials, and the fact that the brigands would have taken keen delight in cutting off his head had they known at first just who he was. During the entire negotiations Mr. Wen worked night and day in an effort to secure the capties' speedy release and earned the lasting gratitude of all.

FED EVERYBODY

Mr. Crow was in charge of the provisioning of the captives on behalf of the American Chamber of Commerce and the American Red Cross. He went to Tsaochuang as soon as a base was established there and from that time until the prisoners were freed worked 24 hours a day getting supplies into the little Chinese mining town and then up to the three camps the prisoners were held in. Starting single-handed he built up an extremely efficient organisation of coolie carriers that not only kept the captives in food and silent water regardless of the fact that they were often shifted about, but also provided food for a number of the Chinese captives, established a mail delivery to and from the bandit lair and in general acted as fairy-grandfather to the prisoners.

Mr. Anderson, who is now in Yunnan, will be presented with the shield with his name when he passes through Shanghai en route back to Peking.

At the meeting it was also announced that the sum of $500 had been collected from among the captives and was being forwarded to Mr. C. H. Yerkes of the American Presbyterian Mission at Yicheng and Father William Lenfers, the German Catholic priest at Lincheng, as a token of their appreciation for the wonderful work the two missions did during the time the foreigners were held prisoner at Paotzuku.

In addition to all of the ex-captives who are at present in Shanghai, Dr. Mertens, the German physician who entered the camp to give medical assistance to all in need of it, who has already been presented with a shield, was present.

Commander G. D. Musso, president of the ex-captives association, was supposed to preside at yesterday's meeting, but was unable to attend as he is ill.

Commander Musso is sailing on the President Cleveland for San Francisco today en route to Italy for an extended rest and a number of the ex-captives, who shared discomforts with him at the Temple in the Clouds, will be at the jetty to bid him bon voyage.

THIS remarkably fine character study of the President of the United States has just reached Shanghai. It is a drawing made from one of his latest photographs.

COCA COLA KING'S SON PULLS THE "COKE" SPIGGOT

Candler, Jr., Passing Through, Chats On American National Drink

An inquisitive reporter ankled around in the footsteps of Asa G. Candler, Jr., son of the Coca-Cola King, last night in a vain effort to discover whether the son and heir of the millionaire soft-drink manufacturer of Atlanta, Georgia, would be enticed by the array of more or less hardish drinks served to Shanghailanders, or stuck by "coke" just as he would in the United States of Aridity.

Mr. Candler and his family, it might be explained, are passengers on the President Cleveland, which sails for San Francisco today after spending the night down the river.

Mr. Candler is also inquisitive. He'd like to know whether you've had your glass and a half of "coke" this year. That's what every so-called human inhabiting the globe is entitled to, according to Mr. Candler's compilations and as the Candler family has filled the family coffers with American nickels until they look like wholesale editions of a Shanghai tram car, he's interested in knowing.

OCEANS OF COKE

The Coca-Cola factory in Atlanta—yes, this is free, gratis and intentional advertising—turns out 25,000,000 gallons of "coke" per year. There are 140 drinks to the gallon normally, although in Chinese a few more will unquestionably be squeezed out of each poor gallon—which makes a total of some 3,500,000,000 drinks they're turning out of the Atlanta coke spouts this year. The population of the world is 2,000,000,000, approximately, so there you are.

Mr. Candler said that prohibition has had little to do with the consumption of coca-cola. People all over the world, but particularly in the United States where it has almost become the national drink, have been drinking more and more coke every year, dry or wet. The factory originally started by Candler, Sr., who recently set the society world by the ears by running away and marrying his stenographer, and being sued for breach of promise by a beautiful Southern belle, was turned over to the sons and daughters of the family several years ago and is now operated as a stock concern. Mr. Candler devotes most of his time to banking and real estate and has just been in the Philippines looking over some land he has been financing through bonds purchased.

Mr. Candler was very probably disappointed in Shanghai. He probably didn't discover a single flapper-man in the act of stepping up to the soda fountain and demanding: "Gimme a coke!"

COMMISSIONER'S ARRIVAL STARTS FILIPINO GABFEST

13 Exiled Patriots Here Cheer Attacks On General Wood

Thirteen natives of the Philippine Islands greeted Pedro Guevara, junior Resident Commissioner of the Philippines in Washington, when he alighted from the President Cleveland yesterday afternoon. Of course, he and his local friends expected a much larger crowd but somehow the great gathering of Filipinos were otherwise engaged.

Immediately after reaching Shanghai, Mr. Guevara, accompanied by his 7 secretaries and clerks and the 13 tried and true friends of Independencia in Shanghai, moved to Eddie's Cafe and there enjoyed a delicious tea and a lot of speaking.

Thence they went to the Rizal Club, in Chapoo Road, where the party found nobody awaiting them, no delicious tea, but where there were a lot more words spoken about Independencia.

The speakers, prominent among whom were Mr. Guevara and his 7 secretaries, declared that he is going to Washington to enlighten the United States Government as to the awful failure Governor General Leonard Wood is making of affairs in Manila. Some of the speakers took violent exception to his course of keeping freedom from their grasp and one of them thought it was downright mean of him to accept the resignations of his cabinet.

Mr. Guevara is taking with him to Washington three secretaries and four clerks. He will have no vote in the House of Representatives and can only address the House by and with the consent of the Speaker. The ordinary Representative has one secretary and one typist. Just why Mr. Guevara should be carrying three secretaries and four clerks is beyond the ken of Americans in Shanghai. He will have an office that is in the basement of the House Office Building and which will be 10 feet wide by 12 feet deep. Just how he is going to accommodate those three secretaries and four clerks in that space is a question. He may park them in the Capitol Grounds or may distribute them over the landscape of Washington, but the fact remains that the friends of Independencia probably will be footing the bill for their maintenance.

Mr. Guevara and his three secretaries and four clerks are to leave Shanghai today on the President Cleveland and there may be three or four extra Filipinos besides the 13 Independencia adherents at the wharf to bid him farewell and to express their undying devotion to the cause of freedom.

FOREIGN CHURCHES BURNED IN BANDIT RAIDS NEAR HANKOW

Two Priests Reported Kidnapped But Were Found To Be Safe; Mission Compound Raided And Buildings Burned; Garrison At Tsaoshih Loses Eight Men In Fight With Outlaws; Father Ferguson, In City On Way Home, Fears For Safety Of Friends

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Aug. 17.—The London Mission Hospital and the residences of the mission workers and all the buildings except the church of the Irish Catholic mission were burned and over 200 Chinese were marched away captive by a band of bandits who raided Tsaoshih, a town seventy li from Hankow on Thursday morning. Father Daniel Ward and Father Michael McHugh, of the Irish Mission, who were at first believed to have been captured, were found late yesterday. They had taken refuge in some native Christians' houses outside the town.

Practically all the houses in the town were also burned down by the raiders and eight soldiers of the Tsaoshih garrison were killed in a skirmish with the bandits before the garrison retreated into the country.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, August 17.—It is reported that the priests, dressed in Chinese clothes, slipped away in the darkness and took refuge in a native house where they remained unmolested. Two hundred captives were taken by the bandits. It is believed that the bandits are still in the neighborhood.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Hankow, Aug. 16.—Bandits this morning attacked Tsaoshih. They burned down the London Mission Hospital and foreign quarters, and the Catholic Church and buildings, and looted the town.

Anxiety is felt regarding two Irish Catholic priests, Father McHugh and Father Ward, who were the only foreigners in the town at the time of the attack and are at present missing. It is not known whether they have been captured or are in hiding.

A later report states that two-thirds of the houses in the town have been burned down. The local garrison, numbering 120 men, lost eight men killed. The remainder under an officer marched out of the town.

Reuter's Agency is informed by the Reverend C. G. Sparham, Secretary of the London Mission in Shanghai, that he has received a wire stating that the Rev. F. G. Onley of the London Mission at Tsaoshih escaped and is proceeding to Hankow. The other member of the mission, the Rev. J. L. H. Paterson, was on leave at Kuling, as also were the ladies of the Mission. A Chinese doctor and other Chinese mission workers were captured.

(Independent News Service)

Hankow, Aug. 17.—Reports received here tonight are that the bandits have returned to their stronghold at Kinhshan, where the prisoners will be held for ransom.

The British Consulate-General here has lodged a strong protest with the Commissioner for Foreign Affairs and it is understood that the Tsaoshih magistrate is being brought to task for allowing bandits to invade the district.

Rev. J. Wallace Wilson, in charge of the London Mission here, is at present in Hongkong and it is said that Dr. Paterson, who is now in Kuling, is returning to Tsaoshih immediately to investigate the outrage and look after the Christian Chinese captured.

The first news of the bandit outrage to reach Shanghai came to Brother Faust of St. Xavier's College. In a message from Hankow it was stated that Fathers Ward and McHugh were missing and believed to be captured and that the mission property had been destroyed. The message also stated that the Protestant mission there had also been destroyed but that none of the missionaries had been captured. The Rev. F. G. Onley managed to make his escape after the town was attacked and is now said to be en route to Hankow. Dr. J. L. H. Paterson, Mrs. Paterson, and Mrs. Onley are on leave in Kuling, and Miss A. C. Crowl of the I.N.D. is also believed to be in Kuling.

MANY KILLED

Many Chinese residents of Tsaoshih were killed and captured in the attack, according to information received here, and the town was gutted of all valuables.

The Rev. C. G. Sparham, secretary of the London Mission in Shanghai, also received information of the raid yesterday, together with the welcome information that all members of his mission station had escaped, although the property had been destroyed.

An interesting phase of the bandit raid was revealed yester-

AMERICAN CLUB MEMBERS TO GIVE AID TO REFUGEES

Nearly 800 Expected To Donate $1 Each Month To Russians.

Every member of the American Club is expected to contribute $1 each month toward Russian relief measures in Shanghai, according to an announcement just sent to all members by Mr. J. Harold Dollar, president of the club. Many members of the American Club have already made individual contributions but under the suggested plan the Russian Relief Advisory Committee would be insured of nearly $800 per month as every member is expected to support the idea although it is not obligatory.

The announcement sent to all members reads as follows:

"The deplorable situation of the Russian refugees is daily demanding more attention. These unfortunates have had to seek haven wherever they could, and the numbers of them that have come to Shanghai have grown so large that it has become a very serious problem, which affects all of us. In spite of their efforts to obtain work, there have not been nearly enough jobs to go around; many of them are homeless, and in danger of starvation.

"It is not only an act of humanity to help them, but it is really essential to ourselves that we do so; the immorality and desperation bred by such conditions is bound to make itself felt to the discomfort of the whole community; and here in China the condition of these people reacts especially strongly upon us, as the Chinese naturally do not draw any distinction between these Russians and whites of other nationalities. Efforts are being made officially to relieve the situation brought about by this influx, but it is an extremely difficult problem to do anything with, and in the meantime it behooves us to do what we can individually.

"The Committee of the American Club has been solicited by the Russian Relief Advisory Committee to bring to the attention of the Members the awful destitution of a large number verging on actual starvation.

"The Soup Kitchen operated by the Relief Committee in Honekew is giving one meal a day to over 500, many of them day by Father A. Ferguson of Fenghe, who sails on the Hakone Maru today for Ireland on sick leave.

Father Ferguson was ordered home on sick leave and Father Ward, who was captured by the bandits, was ordered to Sungho to relieve him. All three priests are natives of Donegal and held a little reunion at Isaosan, which is in the same district, only a few days ago. Father Ferguson then came on to Shanghai to catch his homebound boat.

INTERESTING PHASE

Interviewed by a reporter for THE CHINA PRESS last night Father Ferguson said that the news came as a terrific shock but no surprise.

"It is hard news to carry back to Donegal with me, however," Father Ferguson said. "Father Ward was to have relieved me, but had gotten only as far as Fanshih and was visiting with Father McHugh, when the raid occurred. The entire district is infested with bandits. Father Melotti, the Italian Catholic priest, who is still held by bandits, was captured at his station only 30 li away from where I was stationed.

"Two days after his capture I received a letter from him asking for clothes and food and also explaining that they were demanding a million dollars ransom for him. In the letter he wrote that as he was an old man—he's over 60—he felt that he would never come out alive. And now they have two more good friends."

FEARS FOR OTHERS

Fears are also held for the safety of other missionaries in the same district including Fathers Massignan and Pietroiyski at Maomiohsih, Fathers Goette and Cavalini at Siantaochen, Father de Martin at Hanchwanhsien, Father Rosa at Kiohum, Father Casagrande at Hwangshihkang, Father Turk at Kishui, Father Sessna at Anlufu, Father Gilzan at Changshihkang, Fathers Belli and Bianchi at Sutchow, Father Cargoli at Shochep, Father Albino at Taojanchio, Father Bongan at Hukiantien and Father Martini at Juemeng. Father A. Melotto, now being held by the bandits, comes from the same district, his station being Teianfu.

Protestant missionaries in the same district include Mr. E. Gillstrom, Miss S. Ryden and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Tiellstrom of the Swedish Missionary Society at Kiahui; Miss H. Porter, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Simon, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Thomas, and Mr. G. H. Wayne of the Wesleyan Methodist Missionary Society at Suichow; Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Hill, Miss Joyce, Miss C. M. B. Milner and Mr. and Mrs. N. Page of the same society at Teianfu; and Mrs. A. Berg, Miss H. Borjeson, Mr. I. Rhne, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Fagerholm, Mr. and Mrs. N. Kuligren, Miss I. Petterson, Miss R. Rydberg, Miss R. Svenson, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Sommartrom, of the Swedish mission at Hwangchow.

Many of the missionaries are away from their stations on summer leave at the present time and it is thought that a majority of them are safe although grave fears are being held for isolated stations.

Included in the 200 Chinese captured are Drs. Woo and Peh, who were in charge of the Protestant mission during the absence of the foreign ministers, according to late messages.

The Catholic mission property belongs to St. Columban's Mission, whose headquarters are at Hanyang, opposite Hankow.

PRIEST STILL HELD

News with reference to Father Melotto still remains rather unpromising, says the Central China Post. Father Arrieta writes from Tungpeh that there is no sign of the troops which are supposed to be taking active measures against the brigands starting any offensive. He had received a letter from Liu, the leader of the bandits, sent through Father Melotto requesting him, Father Arrieta, to come to talk the matter of terms of release over personally. He signified his willingness to go but General Pang refused to allow him to proceed to the appointed place.

It was just as well as later developments showed that a force of 200 brigands had been sent out to ambush the road and capture him. A further letter was received from Liu this time making the appointment at a neutral place and Father Arrieta went but no representatives of the bandits appeared on the scene. It is now reported, says Father Arrieta that in consequence of further troops being sent down from the north the bandits are contemplating recrossing the border into Hupeh.

He has sent a parcel of provisions and necessaries to Father Melotto but the messengers returned saying that they had not seen the captive as the goods had been taken from them by members of the bandit band who had told them to report that the things would be faithfully delivered.

CAPTIVE HELD CLOSE

Father Louzza writes from another place in the vicinity to the effect that the bandits now will not allow anyone to see Father Melotto. Messengers who have been sent by him with parcels to Father Melotto have been turned back. Some anxiety is therefore being felt over the old man as one can only gain news from native sources and these are not to be relied on. As an example of the reports Father Arrieta asks for confirmation of one which states that two Roman Catholic fathers had been captured at Taoyang when the bandits recently raided that place. The report has no foundation of truth as word has been received from the Bishop of the territory stating that there were no foreigners in the city at the time.

Coolidge Appoints C.B. Slemp Secretary

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Aug. 16.—President Coolidge has appointed as his Secretary the Virginian, Mr. C. Bascom Slemp, who has been a Member of the House of Representatives for fourteen years. The choice is regarded as tantamount to a declaration that President Coolidge will be a candidate for Presidential nomination in 1924, and has taken the first step to round up the Southern delegates.

N.Y. Journals Approve Geddes' Slam At Ellis I.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, August 16.—Most of the leading newspapers comment favorably on Sir Auckland Geddes's report on Ellis Island. The New York Tribune considers it fair and helpful and says that Sir Auckland has not exaggerated the facts which are ugly enough to call for prompt action by Congress. The New York World declares that the report is a model of its kind and it is impossible to deny that the charges are justified. The New York Times, while agreeing that it is a fair description of the conditions in December, mildly questions the propriety of a foreign Ambassador suggesting remedies in a matter of purely internal American administration.

He remarked that it would probably be his last tour abroad.

Koo Acknowledges The Lincheng Note

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, August 17.—An acknowledgment of the Lincheng Note was sent by the Waichiaopu to the Dean of the Diplomatic Body yesterday.

Dr. Wellington Koo, replying to questions by correspondents, today said that the Government would do its utmost to expedite a reply.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, August 17.—The Kuowuyuan today announces that forty-five members of the Shantung Provincial Assembly have wired to the Kuowuyuan, the Waichiaopu, Marshal Tsao Kun, and General Wu Pei-fu, repudiating the Lincheng Note from the Diplomatic Corps and adding:

In connection with the Lincheng incident, indemnity is all that is wanted. It is absolutely wrong to judge this incident by the Boxer Trouble. As for the protection of Chinese railways, China should do it of her own accord. The question as to whether General Tien Chung-yu, Tuchun of Shantung, should be deprived of his post should be decided by China herself. For this reason the Chinese Government is requested to reject the Lincheng Note lest a bad precedent of China's sovereign rights being infringed upon should be made.

Boycott Is Near End In Tientsin

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, August 17.—The inspection by Chinese boycotters of Japanese goods has been abolished. It is understood that on the 20th instant a social meeting of over three hundred Chinese and Japanese merchants will be held here under the auspices of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce. From this it may be gathered that the anti-Japanese boycott is about at an end in Tientsin.

WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS MEETING IN NEW ROOMS

Plans for the further furnishing of their clubrooms were discussed by members of the American Woman's Club at the general meeting held yesterday morning in the new quarters at 66 Szechuen Road.

The meeting was presided over by Dr. Anne Walter Fearn, president, and was quite well attended. An account of the work done on the new clubrooms was given by Mrs. Gardner Crane and several schemes for raising further necessary funds were put forward. General satisfaction was expressed over the furnishing thus far and Mrs. Crane announced that after the first of September teas would be served.

Mrs. W. H. Lacy proposed, in connection with the raising of further funds, that on October 3, when a reception will be held as well as a meeting, a silver dollar shower be arranged by members. The proposal was accepted. Another proposal that members each donate a chair toward the furnishing of the rooms was also accepted. A considerable quantity of furniture has already been donated and the cafeteria held some months ago was the means of providing tables and seating accommodation for one hundred.

The question will be further discussed at a general meeting in October.

It was announced at the meeting that the Club year book, containing papers read before the organization during the year, may be secured on application, the price being $2.20.

Captain's Error Caused Ship's Loss

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 16.—The court of inquiry into the loss of the Canadian Pacific liner Marvale, which on May 22 struck Cape Freel Rock in a fog and sank, found that the casualty was due to a grave error of judgment on the captain's part owing to over confidence regarding the position of the vessel.

Nevertheless the captain was not censured. The court expressed its appreciation of the very efficient manner in which the passengers and the crew were taken off the wreck, and expressed the opinion that this was one indication of the general efficiency with which the vessel was commanded.

Japan Places Big Tin-Plate Order

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 17.—Confirmation of the rumor that certain works had received an order for 20,000 tons of tin-plate, equivalent to 400,000 boxes, from the Nippon Oil Company has produced an optimistic tone in the Welsh tin-plate market. The order has come as a surprise as the Japanese market was practically captured by America during the war. It is understood that the Japanese order is for delivery over September and October, and will be shared between a number of works which specialise in making oil sizes.

ARTICLE SCORES ANTI-RUSSIAN PRESS ATTACKS

The alarm with the present campaign of anti-Russian propaganda now appearing the Manchurian Chinese press is viewed by Russians in Harbin is indicated in the following article from the "Russky Golos," a translation of which appeared in a recent issue of the Russian Daily News:

"Attention should not fail to be drawn to the movement noticeable of late in the Fuchiation press, especially that part of it which is most widely circulated among the mass of the lower classes.

"For over two weeks these papers have been printing almost daily long articles openly inciting the Chinese lower classes against the Russian population.

"Not content with the inflammatory contents of their articles they print rude illustrations aimed exclusively towards an incomprehensible exciting of the lower passions among the savage Chinese masses.

"These illustrations depict incidents from the history of the Boxer Rebellion and scenes of the attacks of the Chinese masses on Blagoveshchensk. All this being presented to the Chinese reader in such loathsome shape that it may inspire in the ignorant man the basest of passions—revenge.

"In one of these pictures there is shown in the rudest way the Blagoveshchensk shore of the Amur River, with troops drawn up armed with rifles and numerous cannons, and a crowd of Chinese whom these troops are forcing to throw themselves into the river.

"Other fantastic illustrations are shown.

"These pictures are accompanied by corresponding articles, written evidently by ignorant men who have no idea of what they are writing and of the consequences which their dirty work may bring about.

"At the same time with this agitation the more serious Chinese press is carrying on a regular campaign against the Land Department of the Chinese Eastern Railway. They demand that [illegible] the control of the [illegible] violation of the land in the Railway Zone.

"The basis taken for putting [illegible] of arbitrary force into effect is such a naive one that it will not bear the most lenient criticism. The Chinese writers who bring out such articles do not even take the trouble to spend a little time in acquainting themselves with the treaties concluded between Russia and China prior to the building of the Chinese Eastern Railway, nor with the rights which accrue to the Railway on the concession lines with respect to the lands assigned under treaty.

"These articles, with their baseless attacks on a large number of prominent officials of the Railway, who are accused of all possible non-existent misdoings, almost comprising the betrayal of the Railway to the Japanese and other foreigners, only give rise to an undesirable sentiment in the relations between the Russians and the Chinese which, it must be observed, all the responsible political and government workers of China in Manchuria are actively emphasizing everywhere, forgetting who the real culprits are."

French Wireless—News And Views

(French Wireless)

Paris, Aug. 16.—The London "Times" notes that the feeling in City financial circles is in favor of separate treatment of Reparations and Interallied Debts granting France the priority for 26 milliards gold marks and abandoning to the Allies the British share of the reparations.

The London "Evening News" writes: "We have serious reasons to believe that the British Government is awaiting a friendly reply from Premier Poincare. If this expectation is realised it might be considered certain that the British Government would not stick to the question of the legality of military occupation of the Ruhr, a question which it doubtless regrets now to have raised in a form in which it was expressed in the last British note, which the journal qualifies as awkward, at least as regards the [illegible]."

Paris, Aug. 16.—The Court Martial has condemned two members of the Stamboulisti Cabinet to capital punishment. Two others are condemned to life imprisonment and three others to 5 years in prison.

American Club Members To Give Aid To Refugees

women and helpless children, at a cost of about $1,000 Mex. per month, but they are turning away daily many hungry ones for want of funds to feed more. The Soup Kitchen operated by the French Sisters of Charity in the French Settlement which feeds 260 persons with one meal a day is badly in need of funds to enable it to carry on.

"It is recognised that almost everyone can and would subscribe a small amount monthly until the situation is relieved, but the difficulty is in securing subscriptions and collections.

"As a concrete amount, it has been suggested that each of the members could afford to pay $1 each month, adding it to the amount of their Club Bills, and that this would not be felt at all. If any are inclined to contribute a larger amount, it would of course help much more.

"Just increase your check in payment of the enclosed bill by whatever amount you wish to give.

J. Harold Dollar,
President."

The Repatriation Committee of the Refugee Relief Advisory Committee has prepared a circular in Russian to be circulated among the Shanghai Refugees, which sets forth as simply as possible the Committee's desire to be of service in repatriation, saying that the question of relief has had the earnest consideration of the charitable organisations in Shanghai for a considerable time.

The circular states that owing to the impossibility of obtaining work here many refugees have expressed a desire to return to Russia if they could obtain sufficient money. The committee has the assurance of the Soviet representative that it is practicable and safe for all those who are not guilty of political crimes to return.

An office has been opened at 1 Whangpoo Road where all who desire to return or to obtain further particulars are invited to call between 9 a.m. and 12 noon for registration. This will give an idea of the numbers who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity and the amount of money necessary. The committee adds that it can promise nothing, though it desires to help the refugees, but as there is no work and money is increasingly difficult to obtain all who can are recommended to return to their own country.

Captain's Strategy Saves Passengers

(Reuter's Service)

London, Aug. 16.—The escape of fifteen passengers and thirty men of the crew of the steamer Douglas, which collided with the steamer Artemisia while emerging from a dock at Liverpool, was due to the captain of the Artemisia keeping his engines going and holding his bow in the hole, while the scantily attired passengers and crew of the Douglas were pulled up on to the deck of the Artemisia with ropes.

Boyle And White To Renew Feud Tonight In Boxing Show At Old Carlton

Billy Bellew Has Arranged First Class Card Consisting Of More Than 30 Rounds Of Fighting; Johanssen And Siemssen To Meet

Billy Bellew is authority for the statement that the boxing card to be offered at the Old Carlton on Ningpo Road tonight will be the best seen in Shanghai recently, and a glance over the "line-up" that he has arranged would seem to bear out his statement.

The main battle of the evening will be that one between Nick Boyle and Charlie White. These boys are as evenly matched as two twin wildcats and Billy says that those who witness their battle this evening will think they are watching twin wildcats in the thick of a first class family row, family rows being a trifle more earnest and spirited than ordinary rows.

Both boys have been training faithfully for their contest tonight and are reported in prime condition. It will be recalled that when these lads met the last time they put up a scrap that was described by old time ringsiders as the best ever seen here since the battle of Muddy Flat, which was away back in the days when Shanghai was a sand bar.

Every boxing fan in the city who missed that battle has been kicking himself ever since, and now that the two boys are in better condition than ever before, with each nursing a grouch at the other because of certain remarks that both made appertaining to what would have happened if the contest had gone a couple of rounds more, the scrap tonight ought to be a hair raiser.

The other half of the wind-up will be turned over to Babe Siemssen and Johanssen, both amateurs. In this battle Johanssen will give away something like seven pounds to the Babe, the latter scaling at 135 against Johanssen's 128. Johanssen deposes and testifies, however, that a little matter of seven pounds will make no difference to him, and that when the Babe leaves the ring he will think somebody beaned him with a seven pound club. Young Mr. Siemssen isn't worrying about that, however. The winner of this bout will receive a handsome cup.

The Curtain Raiser at the Old Carlton show will be looked after by Kid Willie and Joe Ching. This will be a four round affair. Battling Kyko and Kid Frisco will then stage a six round go, followed by an exhibition of boxing by Billy Bellew. Billy is not as spry as he used to was but he still carries a kick in his meat hooks and is sure to add spice to the program with his exhibition.

Altogether there will be something like thirty-five rounds of boxing, not allowing for knockouts, so the fans ought to get their money's worth.

TOMMY GIBBONS ON STAGE, MAY GO INTO MOVIES

St. Paul Fighter Very Popular Since Draw With Dempsey

(Reuter's Service)

St. Paul, Minn., July 17.—Five motion picture companies are bidding for the services of Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul light-heavyweight boxer, Eddie Kane, his manager, said today.

Four offers have been received from California producers and a fifth from New York. One company wishes to star Tommy in a serial story of 12 episodes, one is a thrilling romance and the others would leave the plot to Gibbons and Kane.

Kane said that he would accept one of the offers as soon as satisfactory arrangements can be completed. Gibbons, however, now has a vaudeville contract calling for fourteen weeks.

Kane said he is continuing to receive offers from promoters for another bout with Jack Dempsey but said he would turn a deaf ear to them until Tommy has completed his vaudeville and movie engagements.

AUSTRALIANS TAKE THE FIRST DAVIS CUP FINAL

French Players Defeated In Straight Sets At Boston

(Reuter's Service)

Boston, Aug. 16.—The world final in the Davis Cup Competition between Australia and France opened here today.

In the singles, Anderson (Australia) beat Lacoste (France) 8-6, 6-3, 6-4, and Hawkes (Australia) beat Brugnon (France) 6-2, 6-1, 7-5.

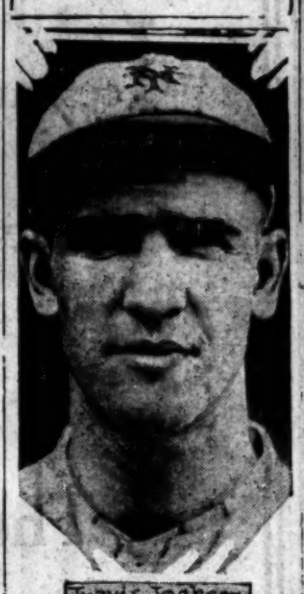
Lacoste opened nervously, but subsequently showed up prominently. Anderson played superbly, especially in his smashing service and quick returns.

Hawkes started briskly and played masterly tennis throughout. Brugnon was erratic, though he showed flashes of brilliance.

BASEBALL TODAY!

There will be a baseball game this afternoon between the Gallopers and the "Hulons," a Japanese nine that has been recruited from among the best talent in town. Another game Sunday, same teams. The week's delay in bringing the Fort Mills team here will give the locals an opportunity to improve their style, and since the Millers are considered the best in the East a little improvement in style won't do the Gallopers any harm. Today's game will start at 4 o'clock.

Giant Star



Travis Jackson

WHEN Heinie Groh, star third baseman of the New York Giants, was put out of the game by injuries it looked bad for the world champions, but Manager McGraw, whose second team seems almost as good as his first, dropped Travis Jackson into the line-up, and the rookie began to shine like a star of the first magnitude. He hits exceptionally well and is as steady as Gibraltar in the pinches.

YORKE IS VICTOR IN LOCAL POLICE TENNIS SINGLES

Defeats Veteran "Jimmy" Quayle In Hard-Fought Match

The redoubtable "Jimmy" Quayle, undefeated for a period of about ten years, has at last been relieved of the laurels pertinent to the Municipal Police tennis singles championship, the same having been lifted from Jimmy's noble bean by Detective Inspector E. W. Yorke.

It wasn't without a terrific struggle, however, that the holder gave up his long held honors and those who witnessed the fracas on the police courts at the Race Course are still talking of it as a genuine battle royal. The match went five sets and the first two of these the veteran took handily. He made a desperate effort to rectify matters in the last stages, but Yorke was too strong and practically invulnerable. The sets were 2-6, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-4.

Glory Is Sole Reward Of Tommy Gibbons Battle With Dempsey

Shelby, Montana, By mail—Tom Gibbons, the courteous and smiling individual, who did the unexpected by going the scheduled 15 rounds with Jack Dempsey, world's heavy-weight champion, here recently did not get a cent for his services. The challenger had to be content to leave the ring with the moral victory of having stayed the limit and giving the mighty champion a hard battle.

Gibbons was boxing on a percentage. He was to receive 50 percent of the second $300,000 to come into the box office. There was no second $300,000. The St. Paul battler knew the receipts would not reach enough for him to receive a single sou before he entered the ring. Yet Gibbons staking his all on the chance of winning the title, never murmured about how he was to make out financially.

Gibbons has a reputaton made in 86 fights of never having been knocked off his feet!

Youthful Jockeys Ride To Victory In England

London, Aug. 16.—The patter of tiny feet is making its impress on British racing history, just as it has done in American movies and Russian chess. One of the jockeys to be seen flying around the race-tracks near London is only twelve years old. Another after having had to be satisfied with coming in second several times last year, is now reaping the fruits of his long struggle to succeed by riding winners. He is just fourteen years old.

His name is Stafford Walter Henry Ingham and he hasn't a whisker on his face, but his master has. For his master is King George. The King was watching the kid the other day when he achived the most glorious triumph of his "career," winning the famous Royal Hunt Cup on His Majesty's four-year-old Weathervane at the Ascot meet. It was the youngster's ninth victory on the turf. Jockey, saddle, harness and all other impediments carried by Weathervane weighed only 96 pounds.

Ingham's father, a chemist at Epsom, reared his boy to be a jockey, even though another son was killed at the age of 13 while riding on the Downs, his horse striking against a post and throwing the youth to his death.

Tall Of Fakien Wants To Quit

(Independent News Service)

Foochow, August 14.—General Lee Chuan-ting who has been acting here for about three weeks has telegraphed his resignation to Peking asking to be relieved of the post of Tuli or Governorship of Fuchien. He has recommended General Wang Tung-chien for Fuchien Tuchun and General Chow Yin-yung for Associate Military Director of that province.

It is understood that his resignation is due largely to the financial stringency that he has been facing, and the indifference or inability of Chihli leaders with regard to this request also has to do with his disappointment.

All Set For A Fight In Hunan

(Independent News Service)

Yochow, Hunan, August 12.—Railway trains are reported to have been interrupted beyond Changsha apparently on account of the military disturbance. Governor Chao Heng-ti's troops in this vicinity have been mobilised by orders from Changsha and are leaving almost en bloc for that place and it is expected that Hupeh troops from Wuchang will come and occupy Yochow on the Hupeh-Hunan border.

The merchants of Yochow have been asked to contribute $20,000 for the campaign of Chao Heng-ti which he is conducting against Tan Yen-kai, but it is almost beyond doubt that they cannot pay this sum. What will happen when they do not pay is a question that everybody is anxiously watching.

Explains Fall In Polish Mark

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, August 14.—Colonel Barber, the United States special envoy to Poland, has sent a report to the American authorities which says, inter alia, that the fall in the Polish mark can in no way be justified by the economic situation of the country which continues to progress regularly. Colonel Barber attaches great importance to Upper Silesian industry, which must find an outlet abroad and then the prosperity of Poland will be assured.

Executive Defends His Tribute To Dog

GOVERNOR Percival P. Baxter, of Maine, "started something" when he ordered the American flag over the Capitol, at Portland, lowered to halfmast when his Irish setter, "Garry," died. State and local patriotic organisations have attacked the Executive for his action. Governor Baxter, who has always been a lover of animals and has sponsored legislation for their protection, has stated in defense that he classed "Garry" as a member of his family.

Base Likely To Cost More Than Planned, Says The Guardian

(Reuter's Service)

London, August 17.—Commenting in an editorial article on the announcement that the naval port of Trincomalee is being re-established as an oil supply station for the Singapore fleet, the Manchester Guardian says that if the battleship squadron is based at Singapore looking east, west and south, it is likely enough that an oil supply base will need to be provided at Ceylon, but if this is so it confirms the view that the Singapore project is a bigger thing and will be much more expensive than we yet realise. Therefore we should know more about the subsidiary bases like Trincomalee, for example, how many and what are their functions and cost.

"Meteors" To Play Colonials Today

Some of the Shanghai College and Nanyang College baseball players now in town have organised a team under the name of "Shanghai Meteors" and will clash with the "Colonials," composed of American School players, this afternoon at 2:30 on Nanyang ground, Avenue Haig.

The Colonials are considered strong, having taken one game from the Chinese Amateurs and two from the local Korean Club while the "Meteors" showed up strong in their game with the Koreans, winning with an easy score of 11-5. Today's game is expected to be a close event. The battery for the Meteors will be Cynn of Shanghai College and Wu of Nanyang. The Chinese Amateurs will cross bats with the Meteors Sunday afternoon on the same ground.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Club Women Open Fall Term On October 2

The silver anniversary of the American Woman's Club will be celebrated at the first general meeting of the fall term, October 2, when every member is urged to be present.

The celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the club will take the form of a silver shower. This shower is unique however for individual pieces of silver are not wanted. No, indeed, the club needs bright shining silver dollars.

Plans for the silver dollar shower were made at the special meeting of the club held yesterday morning in the new club rooms, 68 Szechuen Road.

Important matters of business were discussed and the program of the meetings for the coming year read. The opening meeting on October 2 will be given over to business after which there will be a reception for old and new members.

DANE'S DISCOVERY MAY MEAN FINISH OF TUBERCULOSIS

London.—The medical world is intensely interested today in the possible cure for tuberculosis discovered by Dr. Georges Dreyer, professor of pachology at Oxford University. Dr. Dreyer's triumph lies in finding how to treat anti-tuberculosis vaccine chemically, so as to cure tuberculosis. If its success is further verified it will rank him beside Pasteur as a benefactor of humanity.

Dr. Dreyer is a Dane, born in Shanghai; he has been professor at Oxford for fifteen years. He modestly announced his discovery recently in a lecture delivered in St. Mary's Hospital, in the suburb of Paddington.

In his lecture Dr. Dreyer—to put it without technicalities—explained that dead bacilli are injected into a healthy person or animal to give immunity against disease or, on the other hand, into a sick person, to cure a disease. The dead bacilli thus injected into the blood give the healthy cells an appetite for the living bacilli of the disease which the hungry healthy cells eat up later. Dr. Dreyer said Capt. Douglas demonstrated two years ago in the treatment of tuberculosis that the reason anti-tubercular injections are not successful is that the tuberculosis bacilli could not be digested so as to produce antibodies in the blood of the patient because they are surrounded by a coating of fat.

MAKES BACILLI DIGESTIBLE

Dreyer's triumph lies in the discovery that when tubercle bacilli to be injected into the blood are picked in formalin—an aqueous solution of formaldehyde—the formalin eats off the fat that encases the microbes without destroying their potency.

This is the key of his discovery. Having rid the tubercle bacilli of fat he introduced them into guinea pigs, which are particularly susceptible to tuberculosis and which always die after being inoculated even with a minute dose of the active bacilli of the disease.

Dr. Dreyer took four guinea pigs to which had been given the bacilli of tuberculosis, which had contracted the disease and which seemingly, were doomed. He inoculated three of them with his defatted dead bacilli, the fourth he let alone. The fourth guinea pig is dying. After inoculation with the anti-tuberculosis defatted dead bacilli the other three guinea pigs began to put on weight. Their glands, which had been enlarged, grew smaller as the treatment proceeded. To be brief, they recovered entirely and one, which was killed recently, showed that all signs of tuberculosis had disappeared.

Prof. Dreyer, being scientific, cautious, conservative, ended his lecture with an account of his experiments with guinea pigs. The story of what may be an epoch in the conquest of disease may be taken from the report made by Dr. P. Fildes, the bacteriologists of London Hspital, to the House Committee of that institution, which details the experiments made by himself and Dr. George Western of London Hospital on tubercular patients in the hospital with the Dreyer treatment.

TESTS ON HUMAN BEINGS

After describing how Dr. Western and himself arranged with the House Committee of the London Hospital for the test, Dr. Fildes continues in his report:

"We have supplied Prof. Dreyer with a statement of our results after three weeks' use of his preparations. This statement expressly avoids premature jubilations upon a subject of deep personal concern to a large section of the community. Nevertheless, the statement is accurate, and when we describe the benefit from the Dryer tubercle inoculations as being obviously greater than from any other form of treatment, we are certainly not exaggerating.

"We believe that the cases of phthisis, if not too acute and advanced, will become normal in temperature, put on weight, improve in health and finally be arrested and cured.

"We have evidence that cases of surgical tuberculosis, such as joint or kidney tubercle, will show manifest improvement after they have been almost given up. We have no reason to suppose that such cases, or at any rate less advanced cases, will not be arrested and cured. Children with glandular tubercle benefit obviously. Their health improves and their glands diminish progressively in size. The skin ulcerations of lupus heal up or are healing up in a manner which may be described.

We estimate that this treatment will have a decisive effect upon the method of dealing with such patients.

"In general, we have no doubt that Prof. Dreyer's results on guinea pigs can be reproduced to a greater or lesser extent upon man. It may be remarked that the dose of Prof. Dreyer's inoculation is at first 1-200,000th of a milligram, or about 1-13,000,000th of a grain, so there is little room for error."

Italians May Make Cardinals Senators

Cardinal Maffi

THE cordial attitude of Premier Benito Mussolini, Fascisti leader, toward the Vatican has led to the report that Mussolini would propose to King Victor Emmanuel that two Papal Cardinals be appointed to the Italian Senate. Cardinal Maffi, Archbishop of Pisa, is one of the Cardinals mentioned. Permission from the Pope is necessary.

Loans To Land Owners In Philippines Now Taboo

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, August 2.—Bank credits in the Philippines, it was learned yesterday, are now confined to the limits of Manila and the cities where foreign banks have branches. No banks are making agricultural loans in the provinces except to baby along the enterprises in which they already have sunk funds, in the hope and with the purpose of getting those loans paid off.

An American having Torrens title to more than 7,000 hectares of land, with only P. 25,000 against it, and that only involving one parcel, was unable to borrow P2,000 on short time note from any bank in Manila.

"We would prefer your name and another good one on a strictly short-time loan," one banker said; and he, like others, while he did not question the security of the land, was not interested in it. The land owner had been told by a money lender that the latter could easily loan P.10,000,000 in Manila at 1 percent per month.

"You see reports of usury in the provinces in Manila papers," said the land owner after making the rounds of the banks, "but can you wonder at it, when on Torrens titles I am unable to raise a paltry P1,500 from the banks. By loan application for P.25,000 with which I intended stocking my place with cattle was approved at the national bank in 1920, just before the bottom fell out and investigations started. The bank tells me it has not been in a position since that date to advance me the money, although it does not question the security.

"The plain facts are that today, and for some time past, there are no banking facilities in the Philippines for the ordinary man in the provinces—the man not involved in some sugar-central or other special project which mere selfish interest forces the banks to support. There is no money being put out, I am assured, in new loans in the provinces, no matter what the security may be.

"I believe that here is a situation that must be remedied and remedied soon; it is already having a grave effect on production in the provinces, and this effect would be far more apparent were it not for the big production at the bank sugar centrals, where so many millions are involved, directly benefiting comparatively only a few people."

Canada's Cabinet Studying Exports

(Reuter's Service)

Ottawa, July 6.—The Cabinet is paying serious attention both to matters pertaining to conservation of Canada's pulpwood resources and to export legislation. From Kalgan To Do Lai Nor

The story of the trip from Kalgan to Do Lai Nor in Inner Mongolia to take cinema pictures of the Summer Festival, held under the auspices of the Living Buddha was told by Capt. Ariel Varges, R. F. C. upon his return to Peking. Capt. Varges was recently in Shanghai en route North.

Capt. Varges is the representative of the International News Service and was ordered to proceed forthwith to "film" the Living Buddha, a feat which had never been accomplished heretofore. Accordingly he set forth and arrived at Kalgan and immediately set about to hire a motor car to cross the intervening distance, of some 250 miles. Apparently all the motor cars had been requisitioned by Dr. Baldwin's Research Party who were getting their field equipment together to proceed to Urga.

TRIALS OF THE TRIP

Fortunately for Capt. Varges he met by accident an owner of a new Buick car who had recently arrived in Kalgan to open a local branch of an export company, and induced the latter to take him to Do Lai Nor. A question of passports and other road permits then arose, but through the courtesy of the local Yamen officials, and members of the Foreign Office, these credentials were secured before midnight.

The trip started from Kalgan at 3 a.m. in a pouring rain over a road which was in many places little better than a series of overgrown mud-holes.

Two hours later the going became much worse and the little party consisting of four, the driver of the car, his Chinese interpreter, Capt. Varges and his assistant decided to wait until dawn, in order not to lose their way. At seven o'clock a forward move was made, or rather attempted, but the mud had oozed away giving place to soft gravel which covered the motor car above the hubs. The Chinese interpreter was sent on a reconnaissance for help and returned an hour later with a farmer and his yoke of oxen which were hitched to the rear axle. The motor was started and by the combined efforts of the oxen and the motor, the car was finally hauled back to firmer ground.

The rain by this time had ceased, a strong wind sprang up from the north, and two hours later the ground was comparatively dry. The party travelled all day and nearly all the following night, arriving at the gates of Do Lai Nor at dawn.

A MOTLY THRONG

According to Capt. Varges it was the most motley crowd of horse traders and merchants imaginable which assembled in front of the gates awaiting admission. Camp fires were glowing, the smells of pungent and sometimes fragrant cooking permeated the air, while the crowd joked, danced and laughed, and shared their food with the newcomers.

At half past five there was a fanfare of trumpets from the guardhouse on the mud wall, and a moment later the crowd rushed past the barrier and swarmed through the winding narrow streets of the little frontier city, toward the open plaza confronting the temple.

When the first rays of the sun struck the open courtyard the Sacred Dancers emerged from three sides, clad in their gorgeous robes and grotesque masques and danced "The Dance of Ten Thousand Devils."

Later in the day, Capt. Varges was received in state by the Living Buddha, who presented him to his court, and allowed him to photograph the inner sacred shrine with himself worshipping before it. For three days Capt. Varges remained the guest of the Living Buddha and started on his return journey, again in the rain.

AN EXCITING INTERLUDE

The trip back to Kalgan took four days because of the terrible condition of the roads. On three different occasions the motor car "managed to make the grade" only with the greatest difficulty, but the fact that five hundred miles were traversed over a trackless country, most of the time in the heavy rains, is a great tribute to the car.

Shortly before their arrival at Kalgan Capt. Varges was stopped by a Mongol horseman and urged to return to Do Lai Nor since the Living Buddha's wife had died suddenly of a mysterious illness, and the natives believed that she had become a victim of the "Devil's Winking Eye" in the little brown box carried by Capt. Varges. Instead, he hurried as fast as possible to Kalgan and placed himself under the protection of the authorities, since it later developed that the wife in question had been poisoned by another favorite of the court, in order to gain preference, and in order to clear herself of all blame, had stated that it was Capt. Varges' camera which was responsible for her death.

Ichang Tai Wo Cheong Tea Hong

We beg to inform the public that our Hong in Ichang in the Province of Hupeh, China, has been established for over 40 years specially preparing Ichang Black Teas under the two famous chops "Wo Kee" and "Sin Pin" which are well known to all tea merchants abroad as well as in China. We have always been careful to select the finest leaves which give the best taste.

This year the tea is exceedingly good on account of fine weather, and we have prepared 414 chests of "Wo Kee" and 418 chests of "Sin Pin" which were all sold to the American firm of Wisner & Co. and the British firm of Dodwell & Co. In each of these chests there is a ticket bearing our Trade Mark Dragon and Phoenix and the Chinese characters "Tai Wo Cheong Tea Hong."

The Correct Feeding of Infants

No attempt to provide a correct system for the progressive feeding of Infants was ever successfully carried out until the "Allenburys" Series of Infants Foods were introduced. So successful have the "Allenburys" Foods Nos. 1, 2 and 3 proved, that whenever a child is denied the privilege of the mother's milk they are indispensable.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

August 17, 1923

Spot and forward bar silver were each unchanged in London yesterday and also in New York. The London-New York cross rate declined to 456⅜. The only change in our official quotations here today was a drop in the Franc rate to 1255.

Our market in the early part of the morning was firm but eased off slightly later in the day. At the opening speculators sold a fair amount of silver at 3-0 13-16 for September and 3-0⅝ for October. They also sold Gold Dollars at 70½ for near delivery and 70¼ for forward. However, banks were good buyers of both Sterling and Gold Dollars at these rates and the market eased off slightly until at the close when there were no sellers of Sterling at better than 3-0⅝ for August, 3-0 11-16 for September and 3-0⅝ for October.

The best sellers of Gold Dollars at the same time were quoting 70 for near delivery and 69⅞ for forward. There were sellers of Yen at 69⅞ for near and 70 for forward deliveries. Banks were quoting 3-1¼, 71½ and 1300 for Sterling Gold Dollar and Franc bills respectively. There was no business done in the London silver market yesterday which, however, is reported as steady. New York report their market as easier.

Cotton Reports

In their weekly report on the Shanghai Cotton market, Messrs. A. B. Rosenfeld and Son write as follows:

China Cotton:—Since our last report, the cotton trade has witnessed a succession of firm markets, which, although due in a large measure to the attitude and operations of the Bull clique, have carried prices well over one tael for August and September, while forward positions scored practically a corresponding advance. Whatever may be the ultimate object of the operations, their influence has been one of the controlling factors in the market and has brought about a moderate revival of Bull speculation on the part of the outside public. At the close, prices declined some half a tael and with undertone weak.

Aside from the local speculative features, the chief developments of the week have been further rains in Kiangsu, and Chekiang Provinces and along the Valley. Elsewhere the crop is making good progress. Climatical condition has improved very much within the last forty-eight hours, and will require perfect seasons from now on to insure an average yield.

Meanwhile, the demand for actual cotton has been very poor on the part of Spinners, who are influenced by the weakness of the local yarn market. Under the circumstances, we see no reason to change our views that an advance in prices is unwarranted and any attempt to force the market will be a temporary manipulation.

Yarn:—The yarn market was easier during the past week, especially in the near positions due to the fact of the political situation, prices receded some one tael as compared with last week's level. At the close, the tone of the market was weak.

SPUNT'S REPORT

Messrs. J. Spunt and Company write as follows in their weekly report on the cotton market:

China Cotton:—During the past week hardly any business of any magnitude is reported to have taken place and notwithstanding the fact of a fair numbers of Chinese Mills having stopped running their entire spindleage, prices on old season stocks of cotton continued stead, with a tendency even to firmness on any tentative demand, which, however, was comparatively small on the part of spinners, who appear to be now more and more intent on waiting to take in their necessary supplies from the new season cotton, in that they are not unduly pressed for any immediate deliveries. Prices on the local cotton Exchange for September delivery registered a rise of about Tls. 1.75 per picul higher than that ruling during the previous period and this upward movement is ascribed to expectations of a late harvesting season and to deterioration in the Tungchow district where a considerable portion of the cotton planted area in the lower plateau is reported to be submerged in water. The extent of the damage is estimated to be about 20 percent of the total yield of this district but will be more approximately ascertained during the picking season. Tone of the market is Steady.

Edith Kelly Gould Returns To Stage

Mrs Edith Kelly Gould

EDITH Kelly Gould, divorced wife of Frank J. Gould, son of the late Jay Gould, will return shortly to the stage in Paris. The former dance hall star will appear in vaudeville on a twelve weeks' contract. Presumably she is tiding over her financial affairs while her suit for half of her husband's estate is pending.

Hankow Market

The British Chamber of Commerce of Hakow write as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow, August 8:

Bar Silver 30⅛ ready and 30½ forward on August 2, remained steady during the week and closed at 31 ready and 30½ forward on August 8. New York-London Cross Rate 456⅛ on August 2 rose to 457⅛ on August 4 but closed at 456¼ on August 8. 4 m-s. has been at 3s. 2¼d. for this month and 3s. 2⅛d. forward. Business has been negligible for the period under review and two Bank Holidays have curtailed the working period. Market Rates. Shanghai taels 96.925. Local currency. $70.025. Native interest 5 percent.

Imports.—Piece Goods: Market unchanged, clearance are poor, and as is usual at this season there is little or no demand.

Yarn:—Market quiet, clearances poor, prices weaker in sympathy with the fall in the Shanghai market.

Exports.—There is still no change to report and all markets remain extremely quiet, although slightly more inquiry is noticeable for certain articles. There is an improved tone to record in the horsebeans market at home, and in seeds some business is being done but the bulk of inquiries are for too early a shipment. In view of favorable crop reports cotton can be quoted easier.

The Politico's Side

ALTHOUGH THE CHINA PRESS has great faith in the American administration of the Philippines, as has been pointed out in these columns on several occasions, a spirit of fairness to both sides makes the reprinting of the following statement by a leading Filipino publicist giving the politico's side of the battle now raging in the islands, justifiable.

The 'defense' of the politician's stand was written by Mr. Teodoro M. Kalaw, executive secretary and chief advisor to the Commission on Independence, and appeared originally in The Philippines Herald, a newspaper printed in English and edited by Filipinos in Manila, which is the leading exponent of independence and the mouthpiece of Senate President Quezon and other leading agitators. As such it may be taken as the complete and authoritative argument of the politicos in the present crisis in the islands.

The article is as follows:

"The present crisis is the direct outcome of a conflict between two well-known political systems—responsible government and imperialism. Responsible government assumes a government of the governed based on capacity to investigate facts, know them, and then apply the proper remedy. Imperialism is that government by the sovereign power that ignores the counsel of the governed.

"According to the spirit and letter of the Jones Law which confers on the Filipinos the utmost degree of domestic autonomy, the Philippine Legislature created a system of government here whereby the control of internal affairs is virtually in Filipino hands. The executive departments were reorganized in order to be occupied by Filipinos. There was brought about the closest relationship between the Legislature and the Secretaries of Department, to the end that the latter may ever be inspired by the former in their official acts. Agencies of the popular will were made advisory to the Governor General in order that he may act always in conformity with the desires of the representatives of the people and with the people's welfare solely in view. Care was particularly taken that the closest cooperation exist between the legislative and the executive departments as well as the consciousness of their joint responsibility, in order to impress upon the minds of the secretaries of departments that in fact they are not responsible to the Governor General, an appointee of the sovereign power, but to the Filipino people whom they are called upon to serve. This is, in essence the system of responsible govern ment actually in operation in the Islands before the coming of Governor General Wood.

"But Governor Wood had a system of government in mind entirely different. And desiring to carry it out, he naturally encountered two obstacles on the way—first, the instruments of power already in the hands of the Filipinos; second, the very law itself that protects the Filipinos from any possible usurpations of the Chief Executive. The only course left to the governor, therefore, was to do away altogether with those instruments of power and to ignore said legislation, as in effect he did, invoking for himself what he terms his constitutional authority.

"But the Filipino people realize that what have been conceded to them by law and by precedents are precious constitutional acquisitions which they cannot afford to surrender without being unworthy of them—hence they made this issue against the Governor General their own issue.

"To my mind, there can be but one final solution to this conflict—the complete political emancipation of the Filipinos."

THREE BAD THINGS

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Dear Sir,

There are three bad things which all people should strive to avoid, namely, BAD THOUGHTS, BAD WORDS, and BAD DEEDS.

A BAD THOUGHT is like poison in the mind, and the longer it remains there, the more injury will it do. The bite of a snake or of a rabies is not more deadly. Strive then to keep all Bad Thoughts out of your mind. Fear, shun them, fight against them, and earnestly pray to be keep free from them.

BAD THOUGHTS usually lead to BAD WORDS, and BAD WORDS will surely bring him that uses them into great trouble. They creep through the ear into the heart, and lead us to break our God's commandments. Hence you must carefully close your ears against BAD WORDS, and flee from those that use them as you would from a pestilence.

BAD DEEDS follow BAD THOUGHTS and BAD WORDS. Keep BAD THOUGHTS out of your mind, and you will be sure to use no BAD WORDS, and if you use no BAD WORDS you may be kept from doing BAD DEEDS.

Extinguish the first spark, and you will save your house from being set on fire. Subdue the first evil thought, and you will sure to do no BAD DEEDS.

Good thoughts are the source of everything else that is good, therefore, keep good thoughts in your mind, and you will not be troubled with those three hurtful things, BAD THOUGHTS, BAD WORDS, and BAD DEEDS.

I am, Dear Sir, Yours Faithfully,

(Hsu An Jen)

PORTUGUESE LANGUAGE

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

In the effusion of its patriotism the Macao weekly "A Patria" in its leader of the 28th July, 1923 expresses as follows:

"O portugues da pao tanto material como intelectualmente falando—Materialmente porque muitos multissimos macaenses ganham a vida pelo facto de conhecerem o portugues e muitos deixam de a ganhar porque o desconhecem.

"Intelectualmente porque a lingoa materna foi sempre e sempre hade ser a base de todos os conhecimentos que o jovem adquirir durante a idade escolar."

This is simply an assumption unsupported by facts as far as Shanghai Portuguese colony is concerned. The positions filled by Portuguese in Banks or Commercial firms are certainly not due to their knowledge of the Portuguese tongue. Portuguese holding best positions in Shanghai are mostly ex-pupils of St. Francis Xavier's college of Shanghai and of St. Joseph's school of Hongkong, all without knowledge of Portuguese. Such also is the case with hundreds of Portuguese young ladies of Shanghai who, notwithstanding their ignorance of the Portuguese language, are well employed as stenotypists and office assistants, etc.

Intellectually the Portuguese language does not appear as a factor for attainment of higher studies. In 1920 the highest honors in the local Cambridge examinations were awarded to Master A. J. da Costa, a pupil of St. Francis Xavier's College who with a few other Portuguese is now studying at the Jesuit Fathers' University "Aurora" in Zicawei very successfully. All these young men do not know Portuguese.

The assertion therefore that the knowledge of the Portuguese language gives Portuguese in the Far East material and intellectual bread is certainly inadmissible.

TRUTH

Man with his burning soul
Has but an hour of breath
To build a ship of truth
In which his soul may sail,
Sail on the sea of death,
For death takes toll
Of beauty, courage, youth,
Of all but truth.

Life's city ways are dark,
Men mutter by; the wells
Of the great waters moan,
O death! O sea! O tide!
The waters moan like bells;
No light, no mark,
The soul goes out alone
On seas unknown.

Stripped of all purple robes,
Stripped of all golden lies,
I will not be afraid,
Truth will preserve through death.
Perhaps the stars will rise,
The stars like globes;
The ship my striving made
May see night fade.

BOOH BRIDGE, ...

-:- The Belgian Factor -:-

BY WICKHAM STEED

In view of the strong note on the question of the Ruhr just delivered by Great Britain to France the following article on the Belgian attitude on the question from the current issue of The North American Review is unusually timely. Mr. Steed was formerly Editor of the London Times.

Last month I was invited to address the Belgian Association of Liberal Journalists on the present British view of the international situation. In particular, I was expected to say what people in England think about the Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr. My Belgian colleagues knew that I had, for years, consistently opposed the occupation of the Ruhr, not out of tenderness towards Germany but because I doubted its efficacy as a means of securing a prompt settlement of the German Reparations debt, and also because I feared it might involve for France so serious an entanglement in the industrial and financial affairs of Germany as to endanger French economic independence. Nevertheless they wished to hear what I might have to say in explanation of British detachment from Franco-Belgian policy. What I said to them is of little moment; but what I learned in Brussels, from them and from eminent Belgians whom I met, is of more than personal interest.

Hardly had I reached Brussels than I became aware that things felt different from what they had seemed to be in London. There was something almost tangible in the very atmosphere of the Belgian capital that made the question of the Ruhr and the whole problem of dealing with Germany appear in another light. I became conscious of this difference before I had exchanged a word on politics with any Belgian. What could it be? As I wondered, it dawned upon me that Brussels had lain for more than four long years under the German heel which had trodden into Belgian minds an impression not lightly to be effaced.

This very obvious reflection struck me, if not as a discovery, yet as a reminder how easy it is for nations to lose touch with each other, and not only nations but individual citizens of neighboring countries even when it is their business to know something of each other's affairs. True, I had not actually been in Belgium since the summer of 1920. But the geographical distance between England and Belgium is less than one hundred miles, and intercourse between Brussels and London is constant. Moreover, England came into the War because Germany would not undertake to respect Belgian neutrality which Prussia and England alike had bound themselves in 1839 to respect and to uphold. During the War many thousands of Belgian refugees found asylum in England while the British and the Belgian armies fought side by side to keep one small corner of Belgium inviolate. Thus there ought to have been no room in any Englishman's mind for a misunderstanding of the Belgian position.

Yet I had forgotten, as an essential factor of the present European situation, the effect of the German occupation of Belgium; and, not a little ashamed of this forgetfulness, I pondered over the difference between actual experience and merely intellectual recognition of an historical fact. It was the old story of the toad beneath the harrow. Though London was raided by German aircraft more than a hundred times during the War; though her tale of dead and maimed reached a respectable total; though innocent English fishing villages and inoffensive bathing resorts were bombarded without warning by German warships, British resentment against Germany has ceased to be a dynamic, everyday feeling—whereas, in Brussels, I became aware that hatred of Germany is so strong as to pervade the very air of the place.

DEPORTATIONS

The explanation, I thought, must lie in the circumstance that, in Belgium, the Germans were there all the time, asserting their supremacy without intermission, while to England they came swiftly, did what destruction they could, and departed with equal speed. But, on inquiry, I found that this was not the only reason for the bitterness that was in the air. The chief reason was that the bulk of the Belgian people, Walloons and Flemings alike, who had been actually under the Germans throughout the War, had seen and suffered from the deportations.

Again, to my shame, I had forgotten the deportations. At the mention of them, vision arose in my mind of tens of thousands of Belgians, driven into open cattle trucks by night and day; Kept there in sleet and hail without food, and carried off into German slavery. Then I understood Belgian feeling.

No special emphasis was lain upon the deportations by the responsible Belgians who spoke of them. They were referred to as a fact which none could leave out of account. "The curious thing," said one Belgian statesman, "is that comparatively little hatred of the Germans remains in the men who fought against them in the War, nor is it very strong among those who sought refuge abroad. It is in the mass of the people who witnessed and felt the German methods of oppression that the very name of Germany is abhorred; and their abhorrence affects the position of our Government. Belgian public feeling is more vigorously and persistently anti-German than that even of France except, possibly, in centers like Lille where conditions were similar to those in Belgium. However earnestly the Government may, for economic and other reasons, desire a prompt and satisfactory settlement of the Reparations question, they cannot ignore the national temper which, indeed, is an important factor in their whole policy."

Lest I should again forget, I took some pains to look up the records. No fewer than 160,000 Belgians were carried away to forced labor in Germany. Many died; and 33,000 returned with their health permanently undermined. One hundred sixty thousand in a population of some 8,000,000 gives two percent of active centers of resentment, without reckoning the vicarious resentment of relatives and friends. Add 23,700 Belgians shot by the Germans or dead in German gaols, and 78,000 whose houses were destroyed. Alongside these totals, the 40,000 who were killed in war or died of wounds and the 36,000 wounded, seem of secondary importance. What is more natural than that the survivors of the deportees and their families should feel little compassion for the Germans of the Ruhr, or should think and say that Germany is getting only a fraction of what she deserves?

EX-DEPORTEES

As though to drive home the lesson I had learned or re-learned, I found myself one morning held up for nearly an hour in the streets of Brussels by a mighty procession of twenty-five thousand ex-deportees who paraded the city while crowds thronged the sidewalks to cheer them. Truly, I thought, the political memories of other peoples are short. Here was a demonstration in a European capital with an immediate bearing upon the European situation; yet, so normal did it seem to residents in Brussels, that not a single foreign correspondent reported it to his journal.

But, it may be argued, hatred is a sorry counsellor. The peoples of Europe have to live together and must, sooner or later, settle down to business. Belgium cannot exist without foreign trade. Antwerp is a main gateway into and out of Germany. Is it not unwise for a nation to cherish feelings that are at variance with its interests? Would not Belgium do far better to forget (if she cannot forgive), to cultivate a spirit of compromise, and to remember that the free and unguarded international life, into which she entered with the signing of the Versailles Treaty, involves obligations—and risks—weightier than those which she incurred under the settlement of 1839 that made her independent indeed, but neutral?

Some experience of international politics has taught me that foreign judgments upon the feelings of nations are apt to be valueless, even if they are not positively harmful irritants. Unwise or not Belgian feelings towards Germany are comprehensible and, what is more, they are a fact. As a fact, they have to be reckoned with.

At the same time it is quite true, as thoughtful Belgians recognise, that Belgium's new responsibility for her own defense enjoins upon her circumspection and careful consideration of the consequences which any policy may entail. "Though old as a people," said one such Belgian, "we are in our infancy as a full-fledged nation. Nearly three generations of an existence hedged about by international treaties led us to regard the letter of our rights as the foremost consideration. A tendency to insist upon our rights, without always pausing to reflect whether we could uphold them, single-handed, is noticeable even today. We shall probably run against many a stone wall before we learn the practical lesson that an apparently unfettered national life has limitations quite as real as the old limitations by treaty. Few regret our lost neutrality, or rather, our newly-won freedom; but not all of us quite understand the implications of freedom. We are no longer a ward of the Great Powers but we have still to learn that, if our former guardians are to welcome us in their midst as fully adult, we must cultivate a sense of adult responsibility."

SECTIONALISM

Differences of temperament and language between the Flemish speaking and the French speaking halves of the population render the position of Belgium less simple than that of homogeneous nations; and the political reasons which make the French Alliance acceptable to the country as a whole tend to accentuate the resistance of the Flemings to French influence. A section of the people believes that close relations with England would be even more valuable, because less dangerous, than close relations with France and that, if any of Belgium's powerful neighbors is to have cause for displeasure, it had better not be England. For Belgium, the ideal situation would be one in which France and England were in close agreement with each other and with her. Hence the dismay and irritation that were felt in Belgium when the British Government declined to accompany her and France into the Ruhr. The Belgian Government could not have dissociated itself from French policy even had Belgian national feeling been less potently anti-German than it is, for Belgium is a territorial neighbor of Germany and is bound to France by a defensive military convention. But Belgian industrialists and financiers realize more acutely than those of France the drawbacks and the dangers of the Ruhr policy. They are more dependent than those of

South Pacific Legends

By Rex Hunter

Quaint legends and strange superstitions abound in the lands of the south Pacific, as befit areas where life is comparatively leisured and the smoke of factories is rare.

The most moving legend of the New Zealand Maoris centers about Hinemoa, the beautiful daughter of a chief named Umukaria, who held away over a "pa," or village, on the shores of a lake. Two miles across the lake loomed dark Mokoia Island, the chief of which was young Tutanekai. He and Hinemoa were lovers, but their love was forbidden by the old chief because of an ancient feud. All canoes were taken from the beach and hidden so that the lovely native princess could not join her lover. But through messengers they evolved a plan. One dark night Hinemoa stole from her whare (house) and, going to the lake, plunged in. On the shore of his island Tutanekai sat playing his flute. Guided by the love notes, Hinemoa swam across the lake and joined her sweetheart. In Arcadian, tree-shaded Owhata the old people still croon the love song of Hinemoa the beautiful and brave.

Celebrated in Maori folklore is a partly wooded extinct volcanic peak known as Ngongotaha, overlooking the town of Rotorua, center of the geyserland region, on the west. It is said to be the abode of the fairies, or "patupaiarehe," probably in reality fugitive tribes of ancient aborigines. No Maori will engage in his favorite sport of pig hunting on the slopes of Ngongotaha when the day is dim and cloudy, for then it is whispered the fairies are abroad. Hunters assert that they have heard the "patupaiarehe" singing songs and have seen them dancing fairy hakas (war dances). On the summit of the peak, say the Maoris, is the meeting place of the fairies, Te Tuahu-o-te Ahua, "The Altar of the God." Mythic monsters resembling dragons are believed by the Maoris to dwell in the rivers, probably a memory of the days when their ancestors inhabited lands infested by crocodiles. Some stone shrines where the native priests performed ceremonies of sacrifice and divination are still to be seen. There are sacred trees said to be still inhabited by deified ancestors, and "singing trees," like Jason's oak, that carry to the Maori ear messages of omen.

When I sojourned in the Fijis my house boy, Apenare, related to me a native legend which might be entitled "Why the Octopus Hates the Rat." A rat was once left high and dry on a tiny island, when an octopus came along. "You can swim," said the rat. "Won't you take me over to the large island, where I can get fod?" The octopus obligingly took the rat over to the large island on his back, whereupon the rat, leaping ashore, mocked him for his trouble. Ever since then the octopus has hated the rat. That is why the Fijians use rat meat for bait when they fish for an octopus.

The natives of Fiji believe firmly in ghosts or devils, pointing in proof to huge indentations in the rocks resembling footprints. Some devils are good, they say, and some are bad. One native told me that the devil on his island was an old man with a white beard, a harmless or good devil, who came out at nights to get plantains. Probably the native had seen some old goat, hence the beard.

Hindus imported into Fiji to work in the sugar plantations have brought their own superstitions with them. They also believe firmly in devils and for that reason never go about at night without carrying lanterns. A Hindu house boy told me one day that on the previous evening a bad spirit had entered his room and had stood by his bed. "What was the spirit like?" I asked. "It was like a cloud that reached to the ceiling." "And what happened in the end?" "After threatening me the spirit departed," earnestly answered the boy.

W.H.C. SUPER-DURABLE FLAT PAINT

FLAT WALL FINISH

A perfect Paint of smooth surface for Interior Wall Coating

The surface obtainable with this paint is smooth and flat, i.e., it is not a grainy, dead, lifeless finish, but of a velvety texture. It dries in a reasonably quick time, so that work can be carried out effectively, yet has the property of remaining open long enough to enable the worker to cover a large surface of wall without making laps or edges.

Excellent results with Super Durable Flat Finish are easily obtained, irrespective of the skill of the user, and an elaborate preparation of the surface is usually quite unnecessary.

Super Durable Flat Finish has been tried on non-absorbent surfaces of all kinds and where distemper and oil paint have proved prone to shell or flake off, it has always adhered. It gives a lasting finish of surprising beauty.

1 Imperial Gallon covers about 130 square yards one coat.

TOO WISE

"THAT seems to be a fine animal you have there," said a man on Travis street yesterday to a Houston sport who was about to get into his buggy.

"Fine! There's nothing finer in the United States. That horse has got Hambletonian, Jay Eye See and Nancy Hanks blood in him. You won't find a better animal in Texas. He's made it time and again in 2:10. I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for him. I think more of that horse than anything I've got. Thinking of buying a horse?"

"No," said the man. "I just thought I'd ask. I'm the tax assessor, and I'm kinder looking around at things."

The sport got out of his buggy and went up quite close to the other man.

"See here," he said. "That's a fancy price I put on that horse. He ain't worth nothing like that. You see he ran away with my mother-in-law some time ago and broke her jaw. Naturally I think a heap of him. It's sentiment sir, pure sentiment. You can put that horse's actual value at one fifty-one fifty and not a cent more. Now don't forget."

TEXAS WEATHER

Come girls and boys, the sun shines bright,
It's lovely picnic weather,
Let's hie ourselves into the woods
And sport upon the heather.

Get overcoats and palm-leaf fans
And linen pants and slickers.
Bring hammocks, bathing suits, and skates,
Don't let the weather trick us.

Bring woolen shawls, mosquito bars,
Ice, ear muffers and umbrellas.
We'll be prepared for any change.
The weather can not quell us.

Charity

BY RITA WEIMAN

The easiest thing a man can do is to sign a check—if he has enough money in the bank. Charity in bulk is no difficult accomplishment for the man who doesn't miss the percentage of his income which it represents. It is quite simple to give of the material needs of which you have a surplus and to be known thereby as a philanthropist. But let the man who sits at his desk putting his valued signature to big donations be called upon to rise from that desk and inconvenience himself for the benefit of another human being who may need a helpful hand, and you have the measure of his real charity.

I often wonder how many there are who are willing to give rather of themselves than of their exchequer; who will put themselves out to investigate the case of a man who needs a job and proceed to find it for him rather than hand him a ten-dollar bill and let him look for it himself? The kind word of influence which so very often swings open doors that could not otherwise be budged by the hardest pounding is so much more potent than the passing of greenbacks through the hands of secretaries to the hand which has been outstretched, pleading for opportunity, not for the charity which ends where it begins.

The selfishness which so very often takes hold of the busy and successful man—and sometimes those known as the most inordinately selfish—bars him chiefly from the satisfaction of having started a fellowman on the road uphill, of having frequently the occasion to direct the destinies of others in a way that will make them immortalise his name in their own hearts. Not that we do favors for others with the idea of gratitude, but rather that to ourselves, if we have been at all successful, there is the satisfaction of utilising that success to build up the happiness and peace of mind of those with whom we come in contact.

Sometimes it means only a telephone call; sometimes a little thought in writing a letter; sometimes a personal introduction. Very often these efforts may not meet with success. But if one of these efforts does accomplish what it has set out to do, there's a stimulus and sense of contentment that follows which nothing we can do for our own personal advancement brings to us.

Your millionaire who is so busy building up the pile of his own fortune that he has no time to lay the cornerstone of another man's opportunity misses half the fun in living. He misses the interest in discovering whether his own judgment has been justified. He misses the thrill of having banked on another man's ability and finding that the other man was worth it. But, chiefly, he misses the joy of getting outside of self, of seeing the smile that replaces worried lines and realising that his has been the magic touch which rubbed them out.

It isn't digging into his own pocket that constitutes the big charity. It's digging down into the mines of human kindness and bringing forth pure gold. The odd part of it is that the pure gold from this mine enriches him as much as it does the other fellow. It is so completely reflective that, starting with the sole idea of reaching out a hand to give a hoist to some one less fortunate, he finds himself increasing his own good fortune. The best cure for worry over your responsibilities is trying to lighten another's. The greatest charity you can hand your fellow beings is giving them the opportunity to be independent of charity.

Only the slacker, the derelict or those suffering from physical affliction are willing to live off the bounty of others. The average man and woman down on their luck want, more than anything in the world, the hoist that will pull them out of it into jobs which will enable them to support themselves.

Your Life Is What You Make It In The End

BY J. J. MUNDY

You seem never to forget that you started with a limited education, and you think it is a serious handicap.

You pity yourself all the time and think there is no use trying to reach the goal of your young day-dreams.

Frequently you conjure up in your mind a picture of what you might have been had you been able to wear So-and-So's shoes.

But if you wanted that goal hard enough you would find a way.

You do not deny yourself anything. Pleasures and income go freely without thought. You gave up too easily and now you are just beginning to realise it.

But why continue to pursue "the easiest way"?

It is far more important that you gain an ultimate high salary and position rather than live just for today.

You had an unfortunately poor start, but there is no reason for letting that poor start become a loadstone around your neck.

Your self-pity checks your impulses and efforts for self-improvement.

Your life is what you make it in the end, not how you started.

The Belgian Factor

France upon foreign trade and they fear the consequences of a protracted deadlock. A great part of the economic hinterland of Belgium lies in Germany. She is now practically severed from it, while the advantages derived from German deliveries of coal and coke before the occupation of the Ruhr, have ceased or have been curtailed. Nevertheless there is no weakening in Belgian national support of the Ruhr policy. Whatever sacrifices it involves must, the Belgians feel, be borne until Germany is brought to reason. As in the War, Belgium is determined to hold out until Germany gives way.

For Belgium, as for France, the question really at issue in the Ruhr is "Security" quite as much as "Reparation." Whatever financial or economic arrangements Germany may propose for a settlement, will not be thought adequate unless lasting safeguards against future attack by Germany are created and guaranteed. Among the safeguards would be the permanent demilitarisation of the Rhineland and, if possible, its detachment from Prussia (though not necessarily from Germany). Were it possible to earmark a big portion of the resources of the Ruhr as security for the payment of Reparations, under an international agreement in which Germany could join, and could the creation of a preponderatingly German coal and iron monopoly in the Center of Europe be obviated by some form of international economic control over the Ruhr, Belgium would, I believe, regard her political and economic future with greater assurance. But until Germany finds the courage and the wisdom to put forward reasonable proposals for a settlement, the memory of her misdeeds in Belgium will continue to make of the Belgian people a very pertinacious factor in the forces ranged against her.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is particularly a preparation for Infants and Children made agreeable to the taste, acceptable to the stomach and pleasant in its action. It has been in use for over thirty years and has always been one of the most highly esteemed of all cathartic preparations. It has one great advantage over other preparations of its kind in that while it opens the organs readily and completely, it does not have a tendency to produce subsequent constipation so much to be dreaded.

It was only after years of research in the fields of herbs and roots for a combination of purely vegetable matter that would have all the virtues of Castor Oil, without its disagreeable, nauseating properties, especially when used for infants or children, that the formula used in Fletcher's Castoria was found, and which for over 30 years has proven its worth. Try it.

Save the Babies

Infant mortality is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilised countries, twenty-two per cent., or nearly one quarter die before they reach one year, thirty seven per cent., or more than one-third, before they are five, and one half before they are fifteen! We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save many of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation, and lead to congestion, sickness, death. To avoid any possibility of giving your child opiates, or narcotics of any kind keep Fletcher's Castoria in the house, and Save the Babies.

Activities Are Reviewed At Annual Meeting Of Mokanshan Association

At the meeting of the Mokanshan Summer Resort Association held on August 2 an encouraging report of progress attained and future undertakings proposed was presented by the secretary, Mr. Ralph M. White, for the Board of Directors. The 1923 season thus far characterized as normal, with activities in full swing and the community happily engaged.

The outstanding problem of the Association is the securing of a resident manager, the right man not having been obtained as yet, although the Executive Committee have been working on this matter all the year and have a promising candidate who may be available later.

Roads have been repaired, moved and re-opened with a view to better grading and permanent construction. The annual sanitary inspection is being made and all possible health precautions are being taken, although, since few of the regular residents are patronizing the local milk men, no milk inspection has been carried on. It is hoped to make some satisfactory terms with the milkmen for next season. The medical service is in the successive charge of Drs. O. G. Nelson, A. W. Tucker and S. W. Goddard from June 15 to September 15, and the Bible Memorial Dispensary is again in use, although the directors recommend that steps should be taken to secure a more suitable building on one of the main roads, with accommodation for a few in-patients.

The existing monopoly for the sale of groceries makes it advisable for housekeepers to bring supplies with them, and unless the present firm finds it possible to reduce prices it is suggested that other stores be invited to open on the mountain or that the Association should have its own co-operative store as soon as a resident agent is appointed. Ice is abundant at two cents a pound, weighed on delivery, while firewood though growing scarcer each year is still $1 for 200 catties.

THE NEW HALL

The Mokanshan Assembly Hall is now completed and was used for the first time on Sunday, July 15, 1923, at which time a dedicatory service was held. The main auditorium seats 600 people comfortably and its ample platform with two rooms adjoining and a small tower room provide space for committees and Sunday School, while underneath are rooms for kindergarten, library and reading room. The library and reading room are better patronized than ever and the stock of books larger and more varied. The Friday afternoon children's hour is popular and work among Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Nature Study, and athletics is carried on under the Junior Recreation Committee.

The total cost of the Hall, with retaining walls and approaches is $19,000, which will be met, with the exception of debentures issued by the Association bearing 7½ percent interest. It is also hoped to make a beginning on the payment of the debentures, amounting to $500. The only sources of income are voluntary contributions church collections, concert receipts and the like, but if the same generous support is continued in the future as in the past the directors hope to see the Hall free from debt in five years.

RECREATION

In the field of sports, the tennis courts are reported in good condition in spite of the large landslides last autumn. New equipment has been purchased and a popular tournament is in progress. The dues have been increased with the idea of making this sport self-supporting. The Pool and Bath Club has been obliged to expend an unusual amount to repair the damages of the landslide of last season, the bath house for women and spectators stand have been rebuilt and the east wall built up level, adding a space 6 ft. wide. Roads and drains leading to the Pool have been rebuilt, plumbing reinstalled and a bamboo fence constructed round the property. The popularity of the pool is shown by the fact that 150 tickets had been sold at the time of the meeting.

The interests of the community are being safeguarded by a committee on co-operation with the railway, and the special police tax which the authorities wish to levy on houses is being discussed by the directors with the Chief of Constabulary in Hangchow. The census shows 158 houses, 10 new this year and 21 unoccupied as compared with 14 unoccupied last year. The number of Chinese residents has doubled, now totalling 160, and foreigners 597, of whom 374 are Americans and 12 British.

FUTURE ARRANGEMENTS

Among the recommendations of the directors approved at the meeting were the retiring of debentures of the issue of 1919 to the amount of $500; the engaging of a resident manager from January 1, 1924 at an approximate salary of $3,000 and house and the increasing of the tax on residences to $25 and on hotels to $50 on his engagement; requesting the Trustees of the Assembly Hall to allocate permanently the old church building as a dispensary.

The report of the Treasurer, Mr. H. Maxcy Smith, showed a healthy state of finance, with a balance brought forward at the begining of the year of $966.35. The following officers and members of the Board of Directors were elected for the year 1924:

OFFICERS:

President: Rev. J. V. Latimer, D.D.
Vice-President: Mr. Geo. R.
Secretary, Mr. Ralph M. White.

American Vessels Gain More Cargo

Washington, July 8.—American flag tonnage in March carried the largest volume of foreign trade since January, 1921, the bureau of research of the Shipping Board announced today. March foreign commerce exceeded that of February by more than 1,300,000 tons, an increase of 23 percent. This increase is even more impressive when it is noted that of fifty-seven classifications of imports and exports recorded, forty-seven show increase, thus establishing the substantial character of the advance. Twenty-eight out of thirty-five classifications of imports contribute to a total import increase of 740,000 tons (24 percent), while of twenty-two export classifications all except three show substantial increases. The total increase in export cargoes was 560,000 tons, or 21 percent.

Of the water-borne foreign commerce 940,000 tons, or 72 percent of the totol March increase, was composed of dry cargoes; 480,000 tons imports and 460,000 tons exports. Trade with the nearby countries, Canada, Mexico, Central America, West Indies and northern South America, made the greatest advance over February, with increases of 41 percent in imports and 27 percent in exports. Trade with all countries increased 19 percent in imports and 22 percent in exports. The total percentage increase in dry cargoes was 24 percent, the increases in total dry imports and exports being 26 percent and 23 percent, respectively.

The aggregate carried in tank steamers increased 20 percent, the increases in tanker imports and exports being 21 percent and 17 percent, respectively. This is in addition to the heavy movement of petroleum between the fields of southern California and the Atlantic Coast, which, being a coastwise movement, is not included.

Of particular interest at this time is the volume of sugar and molasses imports, which exceeded 560,000 tons, an increase of 137,000 tons over February receipts. During the first quarter of 1923, a total of 875,000 tons of sugar arrived at American ports. This is 30,000 tons more than the imports of the same quarter in 1922, and the total receipts in that year were nearly 1,700,000 tons greater than during the year 1921.

Damage Hearing Opens In Danish Consular Court

What he declares was merely an open handed slap in the face to avoid being slaughtered with an axe was responsible for the appearance of Mr. P. C. Pedersen, a superintendent during the construction of the Hanbury Road bridge, before Acting Consul-General H. Hergel in the Danish Consular Court, as defendant in a suit for Tls. 5,000 damages.

The action was brought by Mr. W. Kotelnikoff, a Russian draughtsman, who asserts in his petition that he was attacked and beaten by Mr. Pedersen and has contracted a chronic nervous ailment as a result.

Upon examination by the Court, defendant testified that he had sought to have plaintiff dismissed from the employ of Trollope and Colls, the contractors, for dilatoriness and asserted that this action had resulted in the incident on May 9 which led to the institution of proceedings. Defendant testified that he had shoved plaintiff to the ground several times when he approached in a hostile manner and that when plaintiff attempted to attack him with an axe, he struck him in the face with his open hand. He reiterated that the blow was merely a slap when the Court commented that such treatment seemed almost impossible that he should have been so "humane" when his life was threatened.

The case was continued until next Thursday at the request of counsel for the defense, two of whose witnesses are missing.

Rumor Denied Russians Here Can Go To Canada

Persistent rumors that destitute Russian refugees now in Shanghai were to be furnished transportation to Canada and which have created much excitement in the refugee colony were denied yesterday by Red Cross representatives, to whom many inquiries have been addressed.

From the same source it was learned that employment conditions in Manila are deplorable and that it was considered a serious mistake for refugees to look for any help from that quarter.
